The elegant heart of Pordenone, this street is a true open-air museum where frescoed palaces, arcades and noble architecture recount centuries of history. The frescoes, dating from the 15th to the 17th centuries, depict floral motifs, sacred figures, coats of arms and mythological scenes, rendered in the characteristic colours of Renaissance mural painting. Strolling along the street, visitors breathe in a unique atmosphere in which art and everyday life intertwine, beautifully enhanced in the evening by the warm glow of the streetlights.

CHURCH OF THE HOLY TRINITY

Located a short distance from the historic centre, the Church of the Holy Trinity features a distinctive octagonal plan and preserves a rich blend of art, history and spirituality. The Town Hall Loggia, in the very heart of Pordenone, is one of the city's symbols and a 16th-century Renaissance masterpiece. With its elegant porticoed structure, it served for centuries as the centre of public and civic life, hosting assemblies, proclamations and events. Today it continues this tradition by accommodating cultural events and markets. Its walls, decorated with coats of arms and bas-reliefs, tell the story of the city.

CO-CATHEDRAL (DUOMO) OF SAN MARCO

A jewel of sacred art in the heart of the city, the Duomo of San Marco was first built in the 13th century and remodelled several times, combining Gothic and Renaissance elements. The brick façade and the 15th-century bell tower define its refined elegance. The three-nave interior houses masterpieces such as the altarpiece by Il Pordenone, the frescoes of the Montereale Mantica Chapel by Calderari and Amalteo, and sculptural works by Giovanni Antonio Pilacorte, one of the foremost Friulian Renaissance artists.

THE NONCELLO RIVER AND THE BRIDGE OF ADAM AND EVE

The Noncello River flows through Pordenone, offering evocative views and an atmosphere of tranquillity. Spanning it is the Bridge of Adam and Eve, located in an ancient part of the city that was once a hub of agricultural and river activity. The 18th-century statues of Jupiter and Juno, reinterpreted by tradition as Adam and Eve, gave the bridge its present name. Today, the site blends nature, history and myth, making it one of the most poetic corners of Pordenone.

CORSO GARIBALDI AND THE BELL TOWER OF SAN GIORGIO

The vibrant heart of Pordenone, Corso Garibaldi is an elegant pedestrian street that brings together history, culture and everyday life. Lined with historic buildings, refined shops, welcoming cafés and traditional restaurants, it creates a lively yet sophisticated atmosphere that invites visitors to stroll and discover the city's charm. Dominating the scene with its imposing presence is the bell tower of San Giorgio, one of Pordenone's most recognisable landmarks. Tall and slender, it takes the form of a Doric-style column crowned by the statue of Saint George.

CHURCH OF SANTA MARIA DEGLI ANGELI (KNOWN AS THE CHURCH OF THE CHRIST)

Founded in the 14th century by the Confraternity of the Battuti, the Church of Santa Maria degli Angeli is distinguished by its 1510 portal of Pilacorte and by the side door of 1555 featuring a statue of Saint Roch. The brick bell tower recalls the Romanesque style. Inside are 14th-century frescoes, a stone portal and a precious wooden Crucifix, from which the church takes its current name, the Church of the Christ.

PIAZZA DELLA MOTTA AND THE FORMER CONVENT OF SAN FRANCESCO

Piazza della Motta, one of the oldest squares in Pordenone, was once a place of trade and markets and today remains a symbolic space surrounded by historic buildings. Overlooking the square is the former Franciscan convent dating back to the 13th century, an example of simple, austere architecture that has now been transformed into a multifunctional cultural venue.

CIVIC ART MUSEUM – PALAZZO RICCHIERI

Palazzo Ricchieri, along Corso Vittorio Emanuele II, is one of Pordenone's most important historic residences and is now home to the Civic Art Museum. Originating in the 13th century as a fortified tower belonging to the Ricchieri family, it was transformed between the 14th and 16th centuries into a noble residence with porticos, loggias and frescoes. The façade preserves late-Gothic elements with chivalric and heraldic motifs, while the interior features richly decorated wooden ceilings and 15th-century frescoes, including the Story of Tristan and Isolde. Located in the Castle of Torre, just a short distance from the centre of Pordenone, the Archaeological Museum of Western Friuli traces the history of the upper Pordenone plain from the Palaeolithic period to the Renaissance. Through reconstructions and artefacts, it recounts Neolithic villages, castellieri, the Roman Villa of Torre, late Roman necropolises and 15th-century ceramics, and includes the UNESCO finds from Palù di Livenza, as well as the history of the castle and of Count Giuseppe di Ragogna.

THE CITY PARKS

The parks of Pordenone offer green havens of relaxation. Parco San Valentino is ideal for walks and picnics among centuries-old trees, while the more intimate Parco Galvani provides shaded areas for play. It is also home to the Museo Itinerario della Rosa Antica (MIRA), a historical and educational museum trail set among heritage roses, enabling visitors to recognise their characteristics, history and botanical connections. Parco del Seminario, along the Noncello River, brings together meadows, small woodland areas and wetlands, making it perfect for walks and birdwatching. Finally, Parco Martiri delle Foibe (formerly the Rorai Ponds), with its three bodies of water, combines remembrance and nature, offering a peaceful place for walks and contemplation.

Cycling in Pordenone means moving freely, breathing clean air and discovering hidden corners where art, nature and modern life meet. ## GIOVANNI ANTONIO DE' SACCHIS, KNOWN AS IL PORDENONE (PORDENONE 1483/84 - FERRARA 1539)

Born in Pordenone between 1483 and 1484, Giovanni Antonio de' Sacchis, known as Il Pordenone, is considered one of the leading painters of the Italian Renaissance. Renowned for his intense and dramatic frescoes, he combined strong compositional power with luminous, dynamic colours. His works, found mainly in Friuli and Veneto, influenced numerous pupils and contemporary artists.

TORRE, CHURCH OF SAINTS HILARY AND TATIAN

The construction of the first church dates back to the 7th century, while the present building was erected between 1880 and 1885 in Neoclassical style and embellished in the decades that followed. Inside, it preserves a copy of one of Il Pordenone's most powerful works: the altarpiece of the high altar depicting the Madonna with Saints Hilary and Tatian, Anthony the Abbot and John the Baptist (1519 (?)-1521). The original work is housed in the Diocesan Museum of Sacred Art of Concordia-Pordenone. The baptismal font is the work of Pilacorte.

VALLENONCELLO, CHURCH OF SAINTS RUPERT AND LEONARD

Consecrated in 1438 and enlarged between the 18th and 19th centuries, the church preserves the Madonna and Child with Saints by Il Pordenone and the fresco Adoration of the Shepherds by Calderari, a follower of the master.

VILLANOVA, CHURCH OF SAINT ULRIC

Dating back to the 13th century and a parish church since 1542, the church houses frescoes by Il Pordenone (1514) depicting the Doctors of the Church, the Prophets, the Evangelists, the Coronation of the Virgin and angels playing musical instruments. These works stand out for their luminous tones and great pictorial freedom, clearly visible in the powerful figure of the Prophet Jeremiah.

RORAI GRANDE, CHURCH OF SAINT LAWRENCE THE MARTYR

The Church of San Lorenzo in Rorai Grande, built in the early 20th century on earlier structures, preserves frescoes by Il Pordenone (1516) and by Marcello Fogolino depicting the Virgin, the Doctors of the Church and the Evangelists, characterised by realism and sombre tones.

FRESCOES AND SCULPTURES

AN ART ITINERARY IN THE HEART OF WESTERN FRIULI

An art itinerary in Western Friuli devoted to Il Pordenone (1483–1539), his pupils and the sculptor Pilacorte (1455–1531), leading visitors through frescoed churches, altarpieces and carved portals. Painting and sculpture blend harmoniously to narrate a journey through beauty.

PARISH CHURCH OF SAINT STEPHEN AND ORATORY OF SANTA MARIA DEI BATTUTI

In Valeriano, the Church of Saint Stephen houses Il Pordenone's first documented fresco (1506), while the Oratory of Santa Maria dei Battuti displays, on its façade, Saints and a Madonna painted by the same artist and, inside, the Nativity of 1524, a masterpiece of grace and realism.

SAN MARTINO AL TAGLIAMENTO, PARISH CHURCH

The Parish Church of San Martino al Tagliamento preserves important examples of 16th-century Friulian art. On the exterior wall stands a large fresco of Saint Christopher, painted by Il Pordenone around 1518, now faded but still impressive in scale. Inside are two fine altarpieces by Pomponio Amalteo, depicting Christ in Glory with Saints and a Madonna and Child flanked by Saints. Another composition shows Saints Martin, Stephen, John the Baptist and George. These works reveal Amalteo's full artistic maturity and his strong connection to Il Pordenone's legacy.

TRAVESIO, PARISH CHURCH (PIEVE) OF SAINT PETER THE APOSTLE

The largest fresco cycle painted by Il Pordenone in Friuli is found in the Church of Saint Peter the Apostle in Travesio. The artist worked here in several phases between 1516 and 1524/27, decorating the apse with the Stories of Saint Peter: a series of spectacular and complex scenes animated by intense vitality, dynamism and a rich array of figures. The church also preserves an altarpiece by Pomponio Amalteo, Il Pordenone's pupil and son-in-law, who carried forward his stylistic legacy. Completing the church's artistic heritage are a splendid portal and a baptismal font decorated with musical putti, among the finest works by the celebrated sculptor Pilacorte.

LESTANS, CHURCH OF SANTA MARIA ASSUNTA

In the choir of the Church of Santa Maria Assunta is preserved one of Pomponio Amalteo's most important pictorial cycles. A leading artist of the Friulian Renaissance and a direct continuator of Il Pordenone's work, Amalteo depicts episodes from the Old and New Testaments with great narrative intensity and remarkable technical mastery. He blends his master's compositional legacy with a highly personal sensitivity to colour and the expressiveness of figures. The result is a mature and harmonious cycle that testifies to the artistic vitality of sacred painting in 16th-century Friuli.

VACILE, CHURCH OF SAN LORENZO

Here Il Pordenone frescoed the choir around 1508. In the vault, divided into robust ogival ribs, are depicted the Risen Christ with the Evangelists, the Doctors of the Church and the Prophets; in the under-arch are figures of saints holding the symbols of their martyrdom.

TAURIANO, CHURCH OF SAN NICOLÒ

Set within the rolling hills of the Pordenone area, the Church of San Nicolò is a significant stop for understanding the spread of Renaissance painting linked to the school of Il Pordenone. Inside, it preserves a cycle of 16th-century frescoes attributed to artists from his circle, with scenes from the life of Christ and the saints, among which the figures of Saint Nicholas and Saint Sebastian stand out. The decorative scheme, rich in colour and expressive intensity, reflects the vitality of Friulian sacred art even in more intimate settings.

GAIO, CHURCH OF SAN MARCO

The church stands on a rocky spur overlooking panoramic views of the Tagliamento Valley. Built in 1490 at the behest of Alvise di Spilimbergo and dedicated to Saint Mark the Evangelist, it features a main portal by Giovanni Antonio Pilacorte with the Lion of Saint Mark and floral decorations. Inside, it preserves 15th-century frescoes, including works by Il Pordenone and the Story of Tristan and Isolde, as well as richly decorated wooden ceilings.

IN THE SURROUNDINGS OF PORDENONE

The area surrounding Pordenone invites visitors on a journey through history, art and nature. Ancient castles, fortified villages and small art towns preserve the charm of the Middle Ages and the Renaissance, offering evocative atmospheres and views of great beauty. Beneath arcades, among frescoes, noble palaces and welcoming squares, each place tells centuries of events and traditions.

Alongside its historical and artistic heritage, the area also preserves a rich network of traditional crafts, handed down from generation to generation: from woodworking to ceramic art, and from fine lace-making to embroidery, all bearing witness to a creative ingenuity that still characterises local communities today. Equally remarkable is the natural setting: the magredi, an ecosystem that is extremely rare in Europe, comparable to a steppe, where biodiversity finds expression in unique plant and animal species. This landscape, seemingly austere, in fact conceals a surprising ecological richness and is an ideal place for excursions, walks and moments of contemplation. Just a few kilometres from the city, visitors will also find farms offering outstanding local produce, including fine wines and gastronomic specialities that tell the story of the deep bond between people and their land.

LITERATURE AND CULTURE

PORDENONELEGGE

Organised by the Pordenonelegge Foundation, pordenonelegge takes place every year in September and turns the entire city into a festival. It is not simply an event hosted in Pordenone and its surrounding area, but an immersive experience that transforms streets and squares into places of encounter and discovery. It is a celebration of books and reading, bringing together authors, readers and the curious to share stories, ideas and perspectives that engage with contemporary reality. Novels, poetry, essays on economics, medicine, society and geopolitics: every subject becomes an opportunity for shared knowledge and imagination.

Alongside this, the festival includes thematic spin-offs:

- PordenonePensa in Giallo, dedicated to crime reporting, mysteries and investigation.

FOOD AND WINE

The Pordenone area boasts a rich and varied gastronomic heritage, shaped by ancient traditions and a deep-rooted bond with the land.

The Pordenone area boasts a rich and varied gastronomic heritage, shaped by ancient traditions and a deep-rooted bond with the land. Among the local specialities is Pitina IGP, small meatballs made from sheep or goat meat, created in the mid-19th century as a way of preserving meat from animals no longer productive. Prepared with aromatic herbs and salt, then double-smoked and cured, it develops a distinctive flavour with a delicate smoky note. The red onion of Cavasso and Val Cosa, sweet and crunchy, was once close to disappearing but has been revived thanks to the commitment of the local community. From Val Cellina and Val Vajont comes pestith, a fermented preparation made from round turnips with purple collars. In San Quirino, a rare elongated bean is grown, harvested by hand and ideal for soups and stews; it has been saved from extinction by young farmers. The ancient apple varieties of Upper Friuli bear witness to the region's long fruit-growing tradition, now enhanced by initiatives supporting small producers. In terms of wine, the area includes the Friuli Grave DOC, with grape varieties such as Ribolla Gialla, Friulano, Pinot Grigio and Prosecco, as well as the Lison DOCG, home of Tocai Friulano. Wineries and vineyards offer immersive experiences, from tourist harvests to guided tastings. Among sweets and fruit are the Pordenone Biscuit, created in the 1940s with maize and durum wheat flours, almonds and a touch of grappa, and the FigoMoro of Caneva, small and exceptionally sweet, celebrated at a dedicated fair. Local cheeses include Asino della Val d'Arzino, traditional dairy cheeses and the pit cheeses of Val Tramontina, aged in underground environments to develop intense, distinctive aromas. Goat farming provides high-quality milk for cheese production, with outstanding examples such as the San Gregorio dairy in Aviano. Niche productions include Dardago saffron, grown in small plots and harvested by hand, and grappa, distilled from grape pomace during the harvest season. Craft beer also has historic roots in Pordenone and is now experiencing a revival through numerous local microbreweries, symbols of identity and creativity.
